Margritte Rovani	I am Margritte (Mella) Rovani, an assistant professor in Biology. Tenure is the culmination of our learning and teaching, and the process could be daunting. I am fortunate to have numerous colleagues helping and supporting me every time. Now, I would like to give back and be a part of the tenure committee to support and empower other Harper faculty. I have been serving on the Honors Committee since 2021 and a volunteering workgroup of the Senate's Social Committee since 2022. I am very organized, so your forms and documents will be in good hands. Thanks for reading!
